Sir: A statement having appeared in your paper relative to the death of Michael Sheshan, an ex-policeman of the First Ward, reflecting on us, we request that you will state in your next team what has been proven before the Coroner's Inquest, which are facts, viz: We had nothing to do with the cause effecting his demise, but on the contrary, we have been for years on the most friendly terms, and which friendship has only ceased with his death. The verdict of the Coroner's Jury fully establishes the above facts.

There was much greater animation at the Board today, and a marked improvement in most of the leading Stocks. New-York Central, Reading, Rock Island and Galena were especially strong, moving up with considerable buoyancy from opening quotations-while in Erie. Toledo and Southern there was a fair improvement, but not quite so much life and firmness. The movements were of a somewhat desultory character, lacking the intensity and earnestness of clique operations, but indicating the presence of some orders from people outside of the speculative circle, who have until recently taken little or no interest in the Stock market. This is perhaps a more reliable evidence of the improving character of the general market than is furnished by the wholesale but rather eccentric operations of the influential speculators of the Street. The main trouble in Stock movements of late has been in the complete indifference of outsiders, and therefore any symptoms of a change in this respect are welcomed by operators for a rise with a great deal of satisfaction. Street operators may take the initiative in advance with safety, but after the first steps it becomes a matter of great difficulty, unless outside influence is extended in the same direction. To-day's business develops this feature to an extent sufficient at least to show the tendency of outside inclination, and the scattering fire to which the bears were exposed at the First Board has, therefore, more than ordinary significance. Just before adjournment, and after orders had apparently been filled, some of the leading bear operators JAMES SANDORD, Commissioner of Deeds.

SUPREME COURT.

Rock Island and Galena were both tolerably steady at morning prices. Not a hammered the market with considerable vigor, and again, and tolerably firm. Michigan Central sold at 50 to 501, which is a decline of 2 $\psi$ cent from Saturday's price; but the stock has been more firmly sustained than might have been anticipated, taking the recent default of bond payment into considerationcircumstance which certainly does not look hopeful for an early resumption of dividends on the stock. Bond transactions have been unusually large, footing up an aggregate of $157,000, of which $81,000 was in Missouri 6s, at an advance of $ to $ $\tilde{V}$ cent during the day. United States 6s of '68 sold at 112, which was bid for more; this is the first sale of United States stock registered at the Board for several days. Illinois Central bonds were in demand at 86, with sales of > firmness against the efforts which have been made to break down quotations. The Foreign Exchange market has not yet opened with any activity for the Persia, and rates are as before noted, with a large supply of bills. Sterling is 108 a 1094; Francs, 5,35 a 5,20.

$15,500. Michigan Central new loan bonds sold at

The business of the Clearing-House was $16,594,732.

The weekly averages of the Banks of this city show general expansion of the movement. Every item has increased. The volume of general business being still much contracted, the increase in the discount line s not large, the entire expansion since the last of November having been only three millions, and the aggreagate is only a few hundred thousand greater than when the specie reserve was twenty millions less. At this time last year the banks were carrying a line of loans of over one hundred and nine millions, with but little over eleven millions of specie. The specie reserve to-day exceeds twenty-eight millions and a half, the largest average line ever shown and with a rising average. The accumulation of capital here, it appears, is still going on, as the deposit line shows a considerable increase, mainly resulting from the last arrival of California gold. The loans of the Banks would doubtless show a more rapid expansion, if the legitimate wants if the business world were larger, but the unwillingness of responsible parties to enter into new operations, and make new paper, confines the Banks almost entirely to the mere employ ment of their daily receipts, and to the renewal of maturing bills receivable. No important renewal of activity can be looked for at present. That must follow the slow movement of returning confidence to the channels of trade and commerce.

The following is a comparative statement of the condition of the Banks December 26, and Jan. 2:

This position is certainly a very strong one, and likely to disarm the fears of those who looked upon pecie resumption as injudicious and premature. The movement of the Banks since Nov. 1, 1855, has by the Persia will be rather less than was anticipated, say $1,600,000 to $1,800,000. The shipment will be larger than the mercantile needs for remittance, as a considerable amount will go forward for interest and dividends owned abroad. The coin which has been lent to Southern and Western banks to reenforce their vaults preparatory to their annual statements, begins to return to us. The Columbia from Charlestown to-day brings $130,000-$71,000 to G. W. Duer and $32,000 to H. F. Vail. There has also been received by the Cahawba from Havana, $20,416. The aggregate shipments of specie in December from Boston and New York reached $10,165,728, and the arrivals from all quarters $7,301,442. In November the receipt were

$7,400,000 more than the shipments. The Terre Haute and Richmond Railroad has declared a semi-annual dividend of six per cent, payable January 8, at the Farmers' Trust Company. The United States Fire Insurance Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of seven per cent, payable on demand. The Jersey City Insurance Company five per cent, payable on demand. The Mechanics' and Traders' Fire Insurance Company of this city ten per cent, payable 11th inst. The National Fire Insurance Company twelve per cent, payable 7th inst. The Merchants' Fire Insurance Company, J. L. Douglass Secretary, ten per cent, payable 9th inst. The New Amsterdam Fire Insurance Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of six per cent, payable on de mand. The Importers' and Traders' Bank a dividend of 31 per cent, payable on and after the 8th inst. The Harmony Fire Insurance Company & semi-annual dividend of five per cent, payable on demand. Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co. will pay the halfyearly interest, due Jan. 1, 1858, on the bonds of Van Wert County, Ohio, issued to the Ohio and Indiana Railroad. The interest on the City of Hartford bonds, issued to the Hartford, Providence and Fishkill Railroad Company, will be paid at the office of Messrs, Ketchnin, Howe & Co., No. 45 William street, instead of in the City of Boston, as erroneously stated in our article of yesterday. The Panama Railroad Company has declared a semiannual dividend of 6 P cent in cash, payable 16th same terms as other Eastern currency. It is understood that another attempt will be made at the present session of the Legislature to impose Canal tells upon railroads. Mr. Cook of the Bank Department, it is said, will recommend an amendment of the Free Banking act, disallowing the reception of mortgages as security for the issue of circulating notes. This would be very desirable, and render the notes of the Free Banks still safer than at present. We know of instances where mortgages for large amounts have passed the Bank Department which were perfectly worthless.

We understand that the interest on the First Mortgage bonds of the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad has been paid, and \$15,000 of the same bonds have been retired by the Sinking Fund for \$12,000 cash deposited with the U. S. Trust Company. The Company has received from the Governor of the State of Wisconsin a certificate that forty miles of the Land Grant Road is completed, and entitling the Company to 230,000 acres of land, and the title thus vests in the Company, and the land may be sold to retire the Land Grant bonds. Some twenty miles more of the Land Grant Road is under contract and progressing rapidly to completion, to be finished about 1st March, and entitling the Company to 76,800 acres of land, making in all 307,200 acres which will then be absolutely secured to the Company. The means for the completion of the last mentioned twenty miles are already provided. The trains now run from Milwankee to New-Lisbon, 138 miles west from Milwanker. The Wisconsin Stage Company have established a line of stages from New-Lisbon to St. Paul, thus giving this road command of the business to the Upper Mississippi. The steamship Cahawba, which arrived this morning, from Havana, brought the following amounts of money matters. The supply on call and short time is very abundant, at from 5 27 P cent. Rates of discount at the private banking houses continue at from  $7\,\bar{a}\,9\,\,P$  cent for strictly first-class paper, which is seldom offered outside of the banks, and from 10 215 for signatures of very good quality, coming almost to "giltedged" in point of classification. It is a difficult matter for capitalists to employ their surplus means at even low rates of interest in loans of a satisfactory stamp, and the great bulk of recent accumulations is therefore unemployed, and is becoming about as much a source of anxiety and perplexity to its proprietors as before it had been gathered from the various channels of business. Until trade revives with vigor to furnish an outlet for this really troublesome, if not useless, heap of idle capital, we are threatened with a plethora of money almost as un comfortable to a portion of the community as its previous scarcity. New-York and Boston hold more specie than ever before, the former city greatly beyond any precedent. England and France are following in the same direction, and Germany begins also to manifest signs of the same money dyspepsia, if we may use a homely comparison, and over the Continent of Europe, treading upon the heels of panic and bankruptcy, comes the accumulation of money at the great hearts of commerce, whose pulsations cease under the weight of prostrate credits and utter prostration in all branches

The City of San Francisco, instead of sending funds to New-York to meet the coupons on its bonds due Jan. 1, very coolly requests holders to forward them to San Francisco for payment; thus, in fact, repudiating its obligation and promise as given on the face of the Coupons, which purport to be payable in the City of New-York. This is small business for a city of the commercial importance and rank of San Francisco, and a financial blunder of the first magnitude. No city which considers its future credit of any consequence can thus trifle with its obligations, and we feel confident that reflection will convince the authorities of San Francisco of the serious error they have committed. At all evers, it will be found, we apprehend, that the city will save but little money by a "dodge" which is so unworthy of the place from which it originates. Far better would it have been for San Francisco to have lost the interest entirely than to be thus discredited.

The Iron manufacturers of New-Jersey have recently held a meeting at the City Hall in Trenton, at which a series of resolutions were passed, particularly commending the policy of supporting home industry, by discriminating in favor of domestic Iron in the purchase of Government materials, especially for building purposes, a course which they consider will extend substantial encouragement to the Iron industry of the country in a way consistent with the adopted policy of the Government, and compatible with the public interests. The resolutions further state that it is, in the opinion of the meeting, highly important to the Iron interest that this discrimination should be displayed in the construction of the New-York City Post-Office, for various good reasons, prominent among which are those of economy and durability.

At Philadelphia the Money market remains without change-a slightly increased demand being counterbalanced by the supply afforded by the payment of the interest moneys falling due on New-Year's Day.

As compared with the statement of the previous week, the results are as follows:

Mr. Satterthwaite's circular by the Niagara says: annual dividend of 6 $\psi$ cent in cash, payable 16th inst., after setting aside $50,000 to the Sinking Fund for the mortgaged bonds held in London.

The dividend of the Minnesota Company, $7 50 $\psi$ share, which was postponed from 1st November last share, which was postponed from 1st November last to 1st February, will be anticipated by the Company, and paid on and after the 15th inst.

that if the whole amount needed to pay off Mr. Drow be not raised, that the new Bonds are only subject to his mortgare, causes the subscriptions to the new Bonds to be conditional upon others subscribing. The recent decision of Mr. Justice M.Lean in the case of the New Albany and Salem Railroad has also operated to cause a seeing that no particular advantage is particularly to be derived from any forms of legal obligation. There is, therefore, a tendency to avoid any further investments in aid of embarrasted Companies, but to confine them to securities of reads whose income provides a guaranty that no doubt need be entertained of the permanent properties and the security of the

Messrs. Stolterfoht, Frost & Co., in their circular prepared for the Niagara, remark:

"There is no improvement yet to be noticed in business; everything remains at a dead stand, and lower prices for all descriptions of produce would willingly be submitted to, if sales could be made. Failures still continue in this country; en the Continent too there have been many. At Hamburg there appears to be a little more amendment. The Bank is getting into a better position, but no reduction in the discount rate will be made, until all fear of a renewed over issue of Bank notes is passed. Money is more plentiful and good bills can be done somewhat under the Bank rate."

To the Editor of The N. Y. Tribsac.

Sit: Will the Editor oblige many by informing the writer, through The Trime Ye, whether it is customary for those appointed to close the business of a bank to keep that business in its progress a profound secret from holders of the scrip! And if so, whether there are not legal means to bring such to a statement? These questions relate particularly to the late Central Bank, of your city; and as the receivers appointed had some connection with your unprincipled municipal cabal, the thought that they should be looked after seems pertinent.

The Horse Market.

Although the weather is just that kind that horse dealers most admire for their business, it being now (Jan. 4) a clear, bright, sunny day, almost as mild as May, yet we can see no improvement in business in the horse market. In fact, the business must have retired from its former locality in East Twenty-fourth street, or else there is almost a cessation of business in the city. We never saw so few horses in the stables in Twenty-fourth street as were there on Monday. It is the opinion of some of the stablemen that if there was a stock there the trade would revive; and we hear of two or three of them who are about getting in a supply. Others equally well informed are contident that the trade will continue dull until there is a great improvement in business that gives employment for work-horses in the city, because the great mass of business is of that class, and not for fancy stock. It also appears that the stage and railway companies do not buy one horse in the city market stables where not buy one horse in the city market stables where they formerly bought twenty. The sales to city cart-men this Winter have been in a still lower ratio. We are consident that double the number of horses have gone out of the city this Winter that have come in. If business improves in the Spring so that there is as great an amount of work to be done by horses as usual, there will be good cause for their return, and prices will improve upon the present rates; otherwise the horses may remain where they are, upon the farm. There is no mistake about the horse market at present—it is dull.

SALES AT AUCHON.

There was a very foll attendance on Munday at the bazaar in Groabs street. Among those present we noticed a few buyers from the country, but the mass was made up of that class of persons whose talk is of the horse and the speed thereof, some of whom were on the lockout for bargains, and some auxitous for an opportunity to kill time in horse company. Among the lower of the mode, the lock of the missing of the mode, clein order, healty betting three cents upon the turn of a die which one of them shock in his hand and three whom were not the lockout in his prices the horses would sell for as the claim of the mode, in his hand and three whom in the dieder, and a not-fined description of them probably were booms user; we also give stating bids to show the spirit of the nidders, and a not-fined description of appearance and quality of each horse effered.
